Comments

(Set forth by above question #, if applicable.
Use "Additional Comments" Sheet, if needed)

File #: 95-249356

1. The comparison and identification of bark is not a scientifically valid analysis. The identification of the K1 sample may have been possible, as both vines and leaves were present in the sample. However, the Q1 sample consisted only of bark (based on the notes), and an identification of the species of wood is not valid using only bark. It seems the comparison was based on "...all observable characteristics." as referenced in the report. It is my opinion that this was not a valid comparison.

2. There are no notes regarding the microscopic characteristics of specimen K1, and the only macroscopic characteristic cited is color. A copy of reference material is included in the notes taken from "Selected Weeds of the United States". The notes do not provide any information that allow the identification to be made. For specimen Q1, the only notes refer to the color of the bark, which is not sufficient to make the stated association.
